About Dar Amana

Dar Amana (دار الأمانة) is a software company that builds a complete management platform for exchange offices and money transfer businesses across the Middle East. We give owners, managers, and employees one shared workspace for currency exchange, transfers, accounting, and reporting — on the web and on mobile.

Who We Are

Exchange offices run on trust, speed, and accurate records. Yet many still depend on paper ledgers, spreadsheets, and disconnected tools that make it hard to see the real position of the business at any moment.

We started Dar Amana to change that. Our team combines software engineering with first-hand knowledge of how exchange and transfer offices work day to day, and we build every feature around that reality — in Arabic and English, for single offices and multi-branch networks alike.

Our Mission

To give every exchange office in the region the same quality of tools that large financial institutions use — simple to adopt, affordable by subscription, and built for the way the region does business.

Our Vision

To become the trusted operating platform for exchange and money transfer businesses across the Middle East.

What We Stand For

Trust

Our name means "house of trust". We treat our clients' data and records with the care that name demands.

Clarity

02 · THE CHALLENGE

Exchange offices deserve better tools

1 Paper ledgers and spreadsheets that are slow to reconcile

Security & Compliance

Dar Amana is a software platform (SaaS). We do not provide financial services directly and we never hold or move client funds — your office stays in full control of its money and its customers.

Each office works in its own isolated environment with role-based access for owners, managers, and employees, and every action is recorded for audit and compliance purposes.
